

Supply Chain Strategy and Planning Consultants

Are you...?

- Passionate about delivering tailored solutions to a diverse set of clients, both national and international?
- Intellectually curious and eager to challenge existing paradigms?
- Considering learning and knowledge sharing central for your professional development?
- Internationally-minded and curious about new methodologies and market trends?
- Ready for a tailor-made career where you'll fine-tune your analytical and critical thinking skills?

Our Consulting practice within Deloitte has a strong reputation and track record as Business Performance Consultants. We are a recognised leader in helping clients solve complex business problems, differentiated by our ability to execute on the advice we provide. Our multi-disciplinary competencies allow us to address CXO issues from every angle.

Our services are delivered by exceptional consulting professionals who are encouraged to share knowledge and insights. We have strong values that recognise diversity, collaboration and the growth of the individual.

To strengthen our Supply Chain Management team, we are currently looking to recruit experienced consultants:

Function :

Our SCM practice helps our clients transform the supply chain. By applying state of the art competences in supply chain strategy, we aim at improving the performance of our customers in terms of Cost & Profit, and Cash, and this with clear transversal links to other functional area's in the business such as sales marketing, finance and tax. Our industry focus is on businesses for which the supply chain is a critical asset and factor for success: consumer food and beverages, life sciences, CPG, Chemicals, Manufacturing, and distribution.

Profile:

Preferably, you have a Master's degree in Engineering or Economics and at least 3 to 5 years of relevant (consulting) experience in one or more of the following area's:

- Supply Chain Network and Footprint design
- Inventory Management and Optimization
- Supply Chain Cost and Profitability Management (Cost-to-Serve, Portfolio Optimization, Cost-of-Complexity)

- Sourcing and Procurement
- Sales & Operations Planning, Demand Management, Supply Chain Process Optimization

Your experience encompasses the concept development, as well as the project implementation and change management perspective in these area's of competence.

- ✓ Having an APICS certificate can be an advantage.

Your experience as a senior consulting professional will allow you to

- Actively participate in the development of the practice by helping to acquire projects and developing business
- As a project leader, to assume the final responsibility for projects in terms of quality, budget and timing, and to manage and coach a team of consultants accordingly
- Contribute to eminence building in the supply chain community in Belgium, by developing and refining methodologies and by participating in events and marketing activities

In addition, you are a team player with strong communication skills, and you have an intellectual curiosity combined with outstanding analytical skills. We are looking for professionals that are open to work in an international environment, abroad if needed. In terms of languages, you are fluent in English and in Dutch or French with a good basic knowledge of the other language.

Interested? Reach out to us today.

Upload your CV now and contact us to get further information.

We commit ourselves to create business opportunities and you may be who we're looking for to detect and catch many more!

Contact:

Ludivine Fonteyn

Senior Recruiter | Human Resources

Berkenlaan 8B, Diegem, 1831, Belgium

Direct + 32 (0)2 600 60 75 | Mobile + 32 (0)479 90 40 24 | Email: lfonteyn@deloitte.com